MEETING OF M.D. OF COLLSHOLME

Council Decide New Rate of Pay for the Incoming
Secretary

The regular meeting of the council of the municipal district of Collsholme was held in the Collsholme schoolhouse on Saturday, August 27, all members being present.

A motion by Mr. Hittle was passed as follows: That it is satisfactory to the council to allow E. C. Robertson, or anyone else, to have the crop on the east half of 3-28-8, belonging to P. E. Howard, for the cutting of the weeds on the land and the burning of the straw.

Mr. Hittle moved and it was carried that the flax belonging to Ed. Geary be sold and the proceeds applied on his seed grain indebtedness. Mr. Geary to be allowed to sell it providing he can be located and that he can dispose of it within a reasonable time.

The secretary was instructed to write to H. H. George, weed inspector, that the weeds on Howard Rice's land must be destroyed at once.

Mr. Harrington moved that the bill for $32.50 for destruction of weeds on the west half of 10-26-8, belonging to J. M. Davis, be not charged against the land until the work be reported on by a committee appointed by the council. The committee appointed was, Messrs. Hittle, Falconer and Hocart, and the weed inspector for the division was also instructed to be present when the committee are inspecting the land.

The council went on record on motion of Mr. Key, that it had no objection to Jas. L. Ferguson, leasing from the government the road allowance west of the north-west quarter of 2-27-8 if suitable gates are provided thereon.

On motion of Mr. Key the secretary was authorized to pay to Osler, Hammond & Nanton $120 out of the proceeds of the grain sold by Jas. L. Ferguson and paid to the municipality.

Mr. Walter moved that the new secretary-treasurer be engaged and that he take charge of the work on January 1. Mr. Key moved in amendment that the new secretary take charge on November 1. The amendment was carried, Messrs. Key, Marr, Little and Falconer voting for it, and Messrs. Walter and Harrington against.

Mr. Marr moved that the new secretary be paid a salary of $1,800 per year, all commissions to belong to the

Personalities

Dr. L. P. Leavitt, was a visitor in Hanna on Sunday.

Mr. Charley Johnston, of Seattle, is in town this week looking after his farming interests in this district.

Mrs. Wright, Sr., who has been visiting her son, R. W. Wright, left for Calgary this morning.

Ye editor found three nice young ducks hanging on the door-knob of his home on Saturday evening. Thank you!

Mr. Frank Deman, of Granum, is a visitor in town this week.

Threshing operations were stopped for a few days this week owing to the cold, damp weather which was accompanied by rain and a light fall of snow.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be commemorated, following the usual service on Sunday evening next, Sept. 18th, in the Chinook.

Mrs. George Yates, who, with her four children has been visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. Finlay McKenzie, has returned to Calgary.

Mrs. Ed Veitch, and her daughter have joined Mr. Veitch at the home of Mr. R. W. Wright.

The five days storm which began last Thursday has stopped threshing in the meantime except in those cases where "headers" have been used and the grain stacked. The McLean-Wright outfit had only just begun operations on R. W. Wright's farm on Thursday morning when the rain put a stop to business, after two hours threshing had been done.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lawrence sent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Collins at Cereal.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gordon were visitors at the Todd home Sunday evening.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Dunn will be glad to learn that their little daughter, who is ill in Winnipeg hospital, is progressing very favorably.

"The Store that Saves You Money"

Open Portals: May They Never Close

At a time when the great question of world disarmament is engaging the attention of the leading nations, and on the eve of the assembling of the Washington Conference to deal with the subject, it was most appropriate that some tangible recognition of the world's greatest experiment in disarmament should be made. This was done on September 6th on the Canada-United States border between the Province of British Columbia and the State of Washington when the gates of the great International Peace Arch, erected at a cost of $40,000, were thrown open at an impressive ceremony.

This magnificent Peace Arch commemorates one hundred years of peace between Great Britain and the United States. Following the war of 1812, a peace treaty was signed at Ghent, Belgium, on December 24, 1814, and by the provisions of that treaty it was provided that neither Great Britain nor the United States should erect fortifications along the boundary line between their respective territories, nor would either country maintain vessels of war on the Great Lakes. In other words, it was mutually agreed that along the whole 3,000 mile boundary neither country would make or maintain any warlike preparation against the other. Both countries disarmed absolutely so far as they were concerned.

For over one hundred years that pact has been kept unbroken despite the many complex questions and differences of opinion which have at various times arisen between the two nations, as it is inevitable they should develop where there is so much in common and where the interests of one is bound on occasion to clash with the interests of the other.

But if the two wealthiest and most powerful nations in the world, both financially and commercially aggressive, could wholly disarm in so far as the relations of one to the other were concerned, surely it is within the field of practical international politics for all the great nations to follow their example, and thereby not only relieve their people from the crushing burden of armaments but remove the greatest of all incentives to war, namely, active preparation for it, leading to a rivalry in warlike preparation which cannot but finally end in putting these great machines of destruction to the use for which they were built up.

Imagine what the cost to Great Britain, Canada and the United States would have been during the past one hundred years if each had maintained great fortifications along a 3,000 mile boundary line, rival fleets of war on the Great Lakes and Atlantic and Pacific coasts, and standing armies ready to fly at each other's throats! And had such preparations for war been made, is it not merely possible but probable that on occasions in the past when relations became delicate and somewhat strained, recourse would have been had to the rifle and cannon rather than to the peaceful means of arbitration? And what has been possible on the North American continent is surely at least worth a fair trial in Europe and between all countries.

The ceremonies attendant on the opening of this International Peace Arch were not only impressive, but provide a sound guarantee of a maintenance of those friendly relations under which both countries have prospered. The longer the peace remains unbroken, the less likelihood there is that it ever will be broken. That old treaty of Ghent still stands, but it has been buttressed in these later years by a second treaty between the two countries which provides that all causes of dispute between them shall be submitted to an impartial court of arbitration.

At the opening ceremony the United States flag on the Arch was raised by a British Columbia girl and the British flag by an American girl. Emphasizing the common ancestry of both people, the ceremony took place on the same date as that on which the Pilgrim Fathers went on board the Mayflower. The Arch itself carries across the plinth on the United States' side the words, "Children of a Common Mother," and on the Canadian side, "Brethren Dwelling Together in Unity." The doors of the great Arch bear the inscriptions: "Open for One Hundred Years; May These Doors Never Be Closed."

This wish will find an echo in the hearts of all British and United States subjects, coupled with an ardent desire that disarmament may not be confined to these two great English-speaking nations, but that it may be extended to include all nations, races and languages until open portals stand on all international boundary lines testifying to the real brotherhood of man.

World's Smallest Railway

Independent Little Line to Highlands of Cumberland.

Canadian visitors to Europe, on landing at Liverpool or Southampton, are at once struck by the small size of British locomotives as compared with the mighty machines in American railway operation. Their astonishment, not unshared with admiration, is, however, soon supplemented by admiration for the excellent running made on the English main lines, but if one's itinerary takes him into the lakelands and highlands of Cumberland he will there find an independent little line which is said to be "the smallest public railway in the world." This line is known as the Eskdale

Railway, and is seven and one-eighth miles in length. The rail gauge is of fifteen inches only. It is leased to a London company—Narrow Gauge Railways, Limited. The passenger service is carried on by mid-gauge express engines, built to a scale of one-quarter the size of ordinary British main line locomotives, but in other respects exactly the same in construction and appearance.

Ontario Newspapers Merge.

Swiss Have No Language

Public Documents Are Printed in French and German.

The official languages of Switzerland are French, Italian and German, but Switzerland has no language of its own. A majority of the people speak German, while the others use French and Italian, varying as a rule according to the proximity of the people to each country whose language they speak. Public documents and notices are printed in the French and German languages. In the Swiss national parliament the members make their speeches either in French or German, the members being as familiar with one language as the other. Statements from the president of Switzerland are furnished to the newspapers in both languages.

PAINFUL NEURALGIA
TORTURING SCIATICA

Both Come From the Same Cause—Thin, Watery Blood.

Most people who get of neuralgia as a pain in the head or face, but neuralgia may affect any nerve in the body. Different names are given to it when it affects certain nerves. Thus neuralgia of the sciatic nerve is called sciatica, but the character of the pain and the nature of the disease are the same. The pain in neuralgia is caused by starved nerves. The blood which carries nourishment to the nerves has become thin and impure and no longer does so, and the pain you feel is the cry of the nerves for their natural food. You may ease the pains of neuralgia with hot applications, but real relief from the trouble comes by enriching and purifying the blood. For this purpose Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are strongly recommended. These pills make new, rich blood and thus get as a most effective nerve tonic. If you are suffering from this most dreaded of troubles, or any form of nerve trouble, give these pills a fair trial, and note the ease and comfort that follow their use. You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Elevators in Manitoba

Expected That System Will Handle Five Million Bushels of Grain This Season.

One hundred government elevators with an average capacity of about twenty-five thousand bushels each, or an aggregate capacity of 2,500,000 bushels, are taking care of their share of this year's crop in Manitoba. These elevators usually fill up about twice at least during the season, so that they will actually handle approximately five million bushels of Manitoba grain this fall. Practically all of this will be wheat.

In all, there are 702 country elevators in Manitoba with a total capacity of 22,920,000 bushels, besides five large interior storage elevators capable of holding an additional 2,200,000 bushels of grain.

Taft Refers To Debt That The U. S. Owes To British Law

Ottawa.—William Howard Taft, chief justice of the United States, speaking before the Canadian Bar Association here paid tribute to British law and to British lawyers, and declared that "the thought of the British bar was always sweet, as it must be, to all those in the United States who realize the debt the United States owe to British law." Mr. Taft was greeted with continued cheering at the conclusion, and a resolution commending him on his appointment to the chief Justiceship of the United States, proposed by Justice Riddell, Toronto, carried unanimously.

"I feel like saying: 'Here I am again,' Mr. Taft commenced. 'I have the home feeling here. In Ottawa I met people and great men with the same feeling as I do people in New Haven, New York and even Washington. I have no feeling of a boundary line at all. I have been in politics and abused on both sides of the line. I have sat on the bench on both sides and have realized in these deserts the errors of men.' It was an honor for the American bar to have their representatives invited to attend the Canadian Bar Association meeting. It made for the firm establishment of the friendship which did and must exist between the two countries.

(Congratulating the Canadian Bar Association, Mr. Taft said the American Bar Association regarded itself as the parent of the Canadian Association inasmuch as the convention of the American Association in Montreal in 1913 first brought the idea to the profession in Canada.

In the United States they were attempting to secure 18 additional district judges to deal with the cases arising out of the 18th amendment. This remark brought another outburst of laughter, which was renewed when Mr. Taft explained that these judges would be used as judicial light cavalry and would be amassed where the rush of cases demanded.

U.S. Makes Position On Mandates Clear to Allies.

Washington.—The position of the question of mandates has been set forth more completely than heretofore and especially in reference to those of classes "A" and "B," in a new note to Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan, and through some of them, it is understood, has been submitted to the meeting of the assembly of the League of Nations at Geneva for consideration.

Western Newspaper Changes Ownership

Capt. T. Barradell, who has taken over the control of the Milestone Mail.

A change affecting one of the brightest of Saskatchewan's weekly newspapers recently took place, when the ownership of the Milestone Mail passed from the hands of B. G. Ashwin to Capt. T. Barradell, M.C. The new proprietor of the Milestone Mail comes from Derby, Eng., where he occupied the position of works manager in one of the large newspaper offices there. Capt. Barradell served with distinction throughout the Great War. He was attached to the North Midland Field Ambulance and North Midland Field Ambulance, and took part in the last two German offensives. Capt. Barradell was decorated with the M.C. for gallantry and devotion to duty by remaining behind under heavy shell fire and clearing all wounded from a battery of Royal Horse Artillery during the German advance. Also for three days and four nights evacuating wounded and getting dressings and supplies to most difficult positions. Prior to the war he served with the 1st V.B. North Midland Brigade Bearers, Sherwood Foresters Bearer Company and the 1st North Midland Field Ambulance.

Grain Men Elect Officers.

Calgary.—M. J. Thorndorn, manager of the Calgary branch of the N. Baskin Grain Company, was elected president of the Western Grain Dealers' Association at the annual meeting held in the Grain Exchange. H. O. Heimbecker, of Parrish and Heimbecker, Calgary, was elected vice-president, and D. O. McHugh was re-elected secretary-treasurer. Annual reports were received and approved.

Seattle has a women's life-saving corps, composed of eighteen husky mermaids who have passed all the official tests necessary to qualify as life-savers at the bathing resorts.

Soviet Forbids Investigation

Moscow.—The Russian Soviet Government has declined to permit the International Russian Relief Commission, recently appointed by the allied supreme council, to investigate conditions in Russia preparatory to aiding in famine relief. This decision was made known through a note forwarded by M. Chicherin, the Soviet foreign minister, to Great Britain, Italy, France and Belgium. The note says the Soviet Government regards the appointment of Joseph Noulens of France as chairman as a "monstrous sneer at the fate of starving Russia."

Need Colonization Funds

Carlsbad, Czechoslovakia.—Dr. Arthur Rupin, head of the Zionist colonization department, told the world's Zionist congress that half a million pounds yearly for the next few years would be required for Jewish colonization in Palestine. This sum, if made available would enable his department to settle 100,000 Jewish families in Palestine within three years, he added.

Dr. Chaim Weizmann, head of the world's Zionist organization, ridiculed the suggestion that Great Britain desired Palestine merely as a protectorate for the Suez Canal. He declared Great Britain's interest was encouragement to the Jews to establish themselves, and upon their response rested the future of Zion.

Sinn Fein Invited To Conference

British Cabinet Insists That Ireland Must Remain Within Empire.

London.—The British Cabinet has invited Mr. de Valera to send delegates to a conference with the Cabinet Ministers at Inverness on September 20, according to the Daily Mail's Inverness correspondent, who adds: "Only one condition is imposed namely, on the understanding that an Irishman must remain within the Empire."

The communication to Mr. de Valera, according to this dispatch, asks for an early reply and points out the apparent uselessness of conducting negotiations by a further exchange of notes. In order to allay any fears regarding Ulster the decision that Northern Ireland must not in any circumstances be coerced was reaffirmed by the ministers.

Cattle Stealing Charges

Stock Has Been Returned to Canadian Owners by U.S. Sheriffs.

Lethbridge, Alta.—James R. Leach, a Montana rancher living along the border, and James Muir, one of the cowboys of his outfit, were committed for trial at Courts on a charge of stealing cattle from the Wallace Ranch and Webster outfits on the Alberta side of the line. Eight cattle involved in the alleged thefts have been gathered up by Montana sheriffs and turned over to their Canadian owners. Brand running was the method used in the operations, according to the evidence, and Sheriff Morgan, of Liberty County, Montana, testified that when he arrested Leach at Chester he admitted his guilt.

Increase Lake Rates

For Grain Shipment.

Will Cost the Farmer One and a Half Cents a Bushel More.

Winnipeg.—Lake freights on grain from Fort William and Port Arthur to Georgian Bay points have been advanced 1½ cents a bushel this week. Officials of the vessel owning companies say this is due to the demand from Chicago for tonnage and Canadian shippers must pay a premium to induce boats to come to the lake head for cargoes.

Preparing For Elections

Once Dissolution Takes Place and Writs Are Issued There Remains Only Routine Work.

Ottawa.—The necessary machinery for carrying out the coming general election is all ready. Once dissolution takes place and the writs for a general election are issued, there only remains the need for expressing all the necessary forms and documents to the returning officers in the various constituencies. At the office of the chief electoral officer, preparations have been made for despatching the necessary forms immediately the writ is issued and election officers throughout the Dominion will at the same time receive full printed instructions as to their duties.

With the exception of Saskatchewan and Prince Edward Island, there already exist in the different provinces, lists of voters which will be used as the basis of lists to be prepared for the coming general election. In each case, the lists will be brought up to date as provided by the Dominion Elections Act, revising officers and registrars being appointed as required.

Grain Shippers

Break All Records

Officials State Movement Well Ahead of Other Years.

Winnipeg.—All previous records for volume and early shipment of grain over the Canadian Pacific Railways western lines have been shattered this season.

Wheat and other grains shipped east up to this time has passed the eight million bushel mark and in a measure, it is stated, accounts for reported congestion in Montreal. Of wheat, 5,419 cars have been handled aggregating 7,902,354 bushels and 580 cars of coarse grains have carried 1,020,400 bushels. Early harvest and threshing, and the course of many farmers in putting the grain on the market without delay is responsible for the heavy movement eastward.

Freight Rate Reduction When Conditions Warrant

Lloyd George Optimistic

Has Pen Ready For Signing Irish Agreement.

London.—Mr. Lloyd George, it was learned told the messenger boy who recently delivered to him and the members of his cabinet a box of cigars from anonymous United States tourists as he signed the receipt. "This is the pen with which I signed the peace treaty, and I hope to sign the Irish agreement with it."

The messenger brought back to the donors of the cigars a letter from Mr. Lloyd George addressed to: "My anonymous American friends," saying: "It is genuinely helpful at a critical moment like the present, to receive this really delightful token of sympathy and goodwill from a group of Americans, and I trust we may succeed this year in finding lasting peace and harmony between the two great races which both have contributed so largely to the life and history of your great republic."

Unemployed Men

Refuse Harvest Work

Out Of 160 Registered in Victoria Only 600 Would Go.

Ottawa.—One of the difficulties faced by the Employment Service of Canada in dealing with unemployment conditions throughout the Dominion as set forth in the unemployment report for the week ending August 20.

The report from the employment service at Victoria, B.C., states that during the week ending August 20 the office there had had devoted practically all of its time to registering men for work in harvest fields of the prairie provinces, and at the end of that week had some 1,600 men registered for this particular work. When the call came for men for harvest work, however, only about 600 of the 1,600 men registered expressed a desire to go, in the face of the fact that there was scarcely any present or prospective work for many weeks.

Greeks Still Advance

Turk Army Is Unable to Resist the Greek Forces.

Greek General Headquarters in Asia Minor.—Turkish Nationalist forces have been driven from new positions occupied on September 1, but have retired slowly, defending every inch of the ground. On Tuesday night, the Turks launched wild attacks and succeeded temporarily in re-occupying their lost positions, but later were again driven out.

Unofficial estimates place the Turkish losses at 12,000 killed and wounded. The Greek losses are unknown, but are said to be heavy.

Food For Starving Russia

First United States Relief Boat Reaches Petrograd.

Riga.—The United States steamer Phoenix has taken into Petrograd the first contingent of United States food for the starving children of Russia, says a despatch to the Latvian Telegraph Agency from Moscow. The vessel sailed from Hamburg. The American Relief Administration on Monday sent its first train direct to Samara from Moscow.

Fire Destroys Mountain Village. Rome.—The mountain village of Maffey near Trent in the Italian Tyrol has been destroyed by fire. Seven hundred persons were made homeless. The flames were carried along by a cold wind which added to the discomfort of the women and children, who already had suffered much from exposure to the frigid mountain air.

Tents and other relief materials have been sent to the scene by the government.

Will Forcibly Feed Hunger Striker.

Lethbridge.—Capt. E. L. Janney, on the thirty-third day of his hunger strike has been ordered by the jail physician to be removed to the Galt hospital where forcible feeding will be undertaken in an effort to keep him alive.

The beginning of the second month of the hunger strike finds Janney's heart in a weakened condition and grave fears are held out for his life. It is understood that friends in Ontario have reported his case to the Minister of Justice.

Fort William, Ont.—"Governmental economy still should be a watchword and the monies necessary for the maintenance of the country's institutions, and the meeting of its obligations, should be obtained by measures which will bear as lightly as possible upon the individual taxpayer," said E. W. Beatty, K.C., president of the C.P.R., in the course of an interview here. He is making a tour of inspection through Western Canada, accompanied by the directors of the line and a number of prominent railway officials.

Asked what he thought of the freight rate situation, Mr. Beatty stated that undoubtedly decreases in rates would be necessary just as soon as the financial conditions of the companies warranted it. He pointed out that during the period of strict economy the purchases of the larger systems were very greatly reduced and from the standpoint of the welfare of the country it was highly undesirable that their finances should be so contracted that fairly free spending of money in Canada should be prevented. All railway companies preferred to make reasonable earnings through the free movement of traffic at moderate rates, rather than a restricted movement under higher rates, but regard must be had to the earning power and consequent effect on the credit of the companies if monies were to be readily obtained to enable them to meet the natural expansion of the country which was inevitable, and not, in his opinion, in the distant future.

Expect Sinn Fein

Will Meet Committee

Belief Universal That Republican Leader Will Accept British Offer.

London.—Mr. Lloyd George's letter to Eamon de Valera, the Irish republican leader, which was sent to Dublin after the meeting of the British cabinet at Inverness, seems at least to insure that Sinn Fein plenipotentiaries will meet the special committee of cabinet ministers at Inverness on Sept. 20 for the purpose of clearing up any ambiguity the Sinn Fein leaders may entertain about the six conditions the British Government stipulated as reservations in granting Ireland a dominion status.

The Prime Minister's letter, like all his communications since the Irish negotiations began, is characterized by punctilious consideration for the Sinn Fein. While it suggests a date for the proposed conference it is in no sense an ultimatum and sets no time limit to the negotiations. In fact, it tends to prove what has been maintained throughout by those close to the Premier, that he earnestly desires a settlement.

The belief is almost universal that Mr. de Valera will accept—that what the Premier offers is what Mr. de Valera desires, namely an untrammelled conference with the single condition that Ireland remains in the British Empire. The guarantee which Mr. de Valera is supposed to have in mind are memberships in the League of Nations and the Imperial conference, and these, it is believed, the government would be willing to grant.

Hungarians Capture Austrian Sentries

Two Members of Garrison Killed and Many Wounded.

Vicenna.—Superior Hungarian forces captured Agendorf and are advancing on Mattersdorf, the temporary seat of the Burgenland Government which is in flight.

Hungarian troops, led by two parish priests, Stephen Varga of Agendorf, and Karl Schmidt, of Draasbrunn, overpowered the sentries of the Austrian garrison at Agendorf. Two members of the garrison were killed and many wounded, while the others were blindfolded and taken away in motor trucks.

Reinforcements overtook the Hungarians and the Austrians were released. The priests were made prisoners and taken to Weiner Neustadt, where they were almost lynched by an angry crowd.

Canadian Oil Production.

Ottawa.—The oil production of Canada during the first year ending March 31, was 187,016 barrels, or 6,454, 571 gallons. The bounty totaled $98,163.

THE CALAMITY HOWLER

STEP ON HIM!

WHEN WOMAN HITS THE TRAIL IN THE CANADIAN ROCKIES

The outdoor girl—and her name is legion—knows almost as much about the trails, camps, mountains and fishing of the Canadian Pacific Rockies as mere man. Every summer Banff and Lake Louise are thronged with members of the fair sex who hit the trail to view the beauties of lakes and streams where the trout hide, climb mountains and camp for days near to Nature's heart. Safeguarded by expert guides they learn to ford streams, fish and shoot, while there are real Swiss guides from the Alps overseas to show the way to the summits of majestic mountains. When they ride, climb and camp they wear riding breeches just as well as their brothers, husbands or sweethearts and nobody thinks anything about it—not even Mrs. Grundy, because she has been wearing the shortest of short skirts herself to be in the mode. The war changed many things. It gave woman the vote and made breeches for women conventional.

Beauty appeals to the outdoor girl, and she loves the Canadian Rockies which rise a mile or more above Lake Louise and Banff because they are unexcelled in beauty and majesty. The Alpine Club of Canada has many women members, the most expert of whom do not hesitate to attempt the conquest of any peak men have ascended. In 1901 Mount Assiniboine was ascended for the first time by Sir James Outram. Three years later Miss Gertrude Benham, an English girl, was the first of her sex to reach the summit of this great peak, the Matterhorn of the Canadian Rockies. Both were assisted by Swiss guides. Several made the ascent during the camp of the Alpine Club last summer.

A HUNGER STRIKE

A hunger strike has been staged by Capt. Janney who is being held in Lethbridge jail, pending trial on a charge of obtaining money under false pretences as a result of efforts to float an aircraft company. His 37th day of hunger strike was up last Monday, though he claims he has not tasted food since Aug. 4. He smokes his pipe regularly and drinks lots of water.

Highways Commission for Alberta

According to a statement made by Mr. Ross, minister of public works, the government intend to commence some relief work shortly, and it will be distributed over the province on work on district highways. A permanent road policy will also be submitted by government to the legislature, and it is thought that the establishment of a highways commission will be one of the features of the proposed legislation.

His hair is long with streaks of gray,

His face is worn with worry,

His brow is wet with honest sweat,

He sure earns all his money.

Week in, week out, from-morn till eve

You see him toiling on;

You can hear the creaks and groans that are wren-

Some Facts About Growth of Canada's Fine Buffalo Herd

J. H. Harkin, Commissioner of the Dominion Parks Branch of the Department of the Interior, in a bulletin, stated that Canada's buffalo herd, started a comparatively few years ago with a small number of animals, has greatly increased. Several small collections of animals, aggregating about 740 were placed in Buffalo Park, Alberta, extending from 1908 to 1912. That herd now numbers over 5,000. An actual count was very difficult to make because the animals range over 100,000 acres. They always go in small bunches and do not make any very outstanding efforts to facilitate a count. However, by using hotel dining room counters a fairly accurate idea of the numbers of the animals were obtained.

The Commissioner says that these animals have become very numerous, primarily because of the natural conditions under which they live, but perhaps most of all because there is practically no diminution in their numbers through disease or anything of that kind. Each year a limited number are killed for various purposes, but so far as mortality from natural causes is concerned, the loss is practically nil. For instance, during the past year, 1920, only eight animals died from natural causes. These animals were found dead on the prairie, or with a broken leg or some other serious injury, making it necessary that they be slaughtered. Continuing, the Commissioner says: "The numbers have been increasing so rapidly that we have been compelled to look toward—might I say—some commercialization of the herds. The establishment of that herd in the first instance was purely a matter of sentiment, but investigations we have been making would rather indicate that, as they often seem to be the case, what we started off to do from a purely sentimental standpoint may prove to be a valuable commercial proposition. For instance, there is a market for the herds—apparently a better paying market than we had ever anticipated. At the Montreal fair auction sales of last year we had on sale a limited number of the mounted heads which brought as high as $1,025 each. That was a surprise to us. The lowest price brought was a skin, $325.

"Our robes, we find, are worth easily an average of $100. Then we have the great meat value. There has not been very much experimental work in converting hides into leather. We have had a number of hides tanned for sole leather purposes. The reports which we have had in regard to its quality as sole leather are not uniform. The shoemakers, however, tell us that it is the very best kind of leather, because, while it gives strength and thickness, it also gives our greater elasticity than the ordinary domestic animal hide.

"The meat, we think, will also give us a very valuable commercial product. We are not yet in a position to put it on the market, because we have not the facilities in the way of corals, sorting pounds, etc. But we are gradually getting these, and we think we will get a substantial revenue from the sale of the buffalo meat.

"There is also a possibility of commercial development in the matter of the wool, and that possibility is a promising one. We have never clipped any of the buffalo. It would be a difficult, if not impossible, thing to do with the facilities we have at our disposal. But each spring the buffalo shed their wool, and we have our riders collect this wool off the prairie. We have it carded and spun, and it gives us a wool of extraordinary strength. I do not think it could be used in the manufacture of clothes or anything of that kind, but I imagine if it could be used in the manufacture of carpets you would have an article that would last and never wear out. A buffalo hide is practically as good as ever after it has been in use twenty years; the outstanding feature of the buffalo robe has always been its extraordinary wearing qualities.

"We have not yet carried on any experiments with respect to the domestication of the animals. This will probably be done. We are carrying on experiments with respect to cross-breeding of buffalo. We have reasonable expectations that we shall be able to produce an animal which will be able to range in the open all winter many hundred miles beyond the present limit for the domestic animal. These experiments are carried on by the Department of Agriculture, which has experienced veterinarians and animal husbandmen. We hand them over the animals and give them the use of the necessary amount of ground. They have specimens of one-half, one-quarter, one-eighth, and, I think, one-sixteenth of buffalo blood and sometimes the reverse in the case of the domestic animal.

"The work is largely in an experimental stage, but the animal husbandmen are optimistic in their views as to what the results of these experiments will be."

Open Eastern Market For Alberta Potatoes

Freight Rates On Shipments Has Been Substantially Reduced.

Following negotiations between the provincial department of agriculture and the Canadian Freight Association, the freight rate on shipments of potatoes from Alberta is substantially reduced, to become effective at once, the reduction amounting to $100 per car from Alberta to Montreal.

Hon. George Hoadley, minister, and H. A. Craig, deputy minister of agriculture, made this announcement recently. Mr. Craig pointing out that the new rate which the government has been able to obtain from the railways will cut the rate per bushel from Edmonton to Montreal about 17 cents. Heretofore the freight charge per bushel was 72 cents, practically prohibitive, whereas the new rate will be approximately 55 cents.

Mr. Craig says the department has been working steadily on the question of opening the eastern market for Alberta potatoes in view of the excellent crop in the northern part of the province and the crop shortage in Ontario, Quebec and Maine where a large surplus of potatoes is ordinarily available.

Australian Wreath Sent To England

Flowers Were Frozen Into Solid Block of Ice.

The wreath of Australian flowers which frozen into a solid block of ice, has been sent by the Perth (Western Australia) branch of the Returned Soldiers and Sailors' League to be placed on the grave of the Unknown Warrior in Westminster Abbey arrived in London and was safely "thawed out" at a wharf.

They were the faintest sweet perfumes as the ice began to melt away under the stream of cold water poured over it, and when it had completely melted the flowers were seen to be as fresh as on the day they were picked. The colors were perfect. There were yellow wattle, red roses and carnations, violets, and some beautiful shellpink lilies.

It took several hours to free the wreath and the two bouquets—one of them for Princess Mary—which accompanied it. It was feared that a stream of warm water might have blackened the flowers.

Before the flowers started their long journey, they were put into a tank of water which was afterwards frozen. The solid block of ice, still in the tank, was then taken on board and kept in cold storage all the way. —London Daily Mail.

A Poser.
An interesting story is now going the rounds concerning an editor who comes right out and flouts his ignorance. He declares he can't help his son with his night work when the questions asked are like these: "If it takes a four-months-old woodpecker with a rubber bill nine months and thirteen days to peck a hole through a cypress log that is large enough to make 117 shingles and it takes 165 shingles to make a bundle worth ninety-five cents, how long will it take a cross-eyed grasshopper with a take a cross-eyed grasshopper with a dull pick?" —Ottawa Journal.

British Farmers Coming.
A five thousand acre tract of land near Telkwa, British Columbia, on the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, is being cleared ready for occupation and cultivation next spring. The land has been sold through the Rattenbury Land Company to a syndicate of British farmers, who will arrive this fall, well supplied with capital to begin farming on this section.

New Airship Requires No Gas

French Government Is Investigating Invention of Two Italians.

The French Government is investigating a lighter-than-air flying machine, which is under construction at Naples. Using no gas, it is based upon the principle of the lightness or rarified air. By a variable exhaustion of air in a series of envelopes, levitation is obtained.

The machine is the invention of two Italians, Vaugou and Gargullo. They do not form anything like a perfect vacuum, but by a system of enclosed reservoirs, the centre one of which has the greatest rarification, they say they have obtained the result that the pressure of the outside atmosphere is lessened to a degree which makes the frail envelope practicable.

There are three features of the construction. The first is a double envelope, one part within another. In the outside envelope an atmosphere of seven-tenths is maintained, whereas in the centre envelope the air is much more rarified. The layer of seven-tenths atmosphere weakens the outside pressure upon the interior of the balloon, which exercises the levitation force.

The second feature is a series of hollow beams forming the frame of the machine through which compressed air circulates in a manner to exert a counter-action pressure against the outside atmosphere.

The third feature makes use of air heated by the motors to obtain a further decrease of the outside pressure. Professor Garuffa, an Italian expert, holds that the new machine means a revolution in flying. It will do away with the expense of the use of hydrogen, and, it is said, will greatly reduce the crews needed.

The inventors say that the machine when perfected can make 350 miles an hour with 750 horsepower motors.

Britishers Interested in B.C.

Making Survey of Conditions Both of Cities and Unsettled Land.

A delegation representing the Canadian Land Owners' Association of England, are touring British Columbia making a thorough survey of conditions both of the cities and of the vast areas of unsettled land in Central British Columbia, and studying the colonizing organization which has been built up in this province to co-operate with their efforts in the old country towards inducing the best type of agricultural settlers to take up land here.

Value of Fish.
The value of the sea fish catch in Canada during the three months period, April to June, 1921, amounted to $7,624,810, of which Nova Scotia accounted for $3,436,527, British Columbia $2,462,238, New Brunswick $1,086,731, Quebec $339,150, and Prince Edward Island $280,164.

Sports on the Pacific Coast

Surely there is no centre in the world where one can get such a variety of summer sports as in Vancouver, B.C. There are several excellent beaches for bathing, there are half a dozen different lots of public tennis courts within the city limits; there are several golf courses, baseball and lacrosse, a polo ground out at Brighouse Park where recently the Vancouver team played teams from Kamloops and Calgary.

Saturday afternoon nearly always finds a couple of cricket matches being played at the beautiful grounds behind Brockton Point.

But the most popular of all amusements in Vancouver are motor launching and yachting. The harbor down by the Yacht Club is dotted with pleasure motor-boats of every size and build; motorpoor boats from the little row boat with an outboard motor fixed inside it right up to the scale to the beautiful new launch from Seattle, 110 ft., built originally for a submarine chase.

All the sailing boats turn out for the regatta held at various points along the coast. There are 16 "kitt-

Being of Service To the Community

The C.P.R. President Talks Thrift to Boy Scouts.

Thrift is a word which is said to have come into the English language over a thousand years ago from the Scandinavian. It is the noun, which "thrive" is the verb, and suggests that success and saving go together. The very word THRIFT is a good word to look at. It is an upstanding word and at once makes one think of sturdy simplicity, the kind of quality which one associates with a Boy Scout. How different in appearance is its opposite EXTRAVAGANCE, a word which at once suggests an ostentatious irregular character, boastful as well as wasteful.

Now thrift means saving money and unselfishness means saving money, but they are of the same kind of saving. The thrifty person saves money for a purpose, the miser saves money for itself. The thrifty person saves so as to have a bank account against bad times. His thrift has for its object independence and security, and is therefore in accordance with the Scout law. But miserliness is purely selfish, whereas a Scout is told to be thrifty so that among other things he may have money with which to help others when they need it. The Scout must be careful not to carry his thrift too far. You usually find that the thrifty person has a bank account, whereas the miser keeps his money in a stocking, where it can do no good because it is not kept in circulation. The thrifty person puts his money where it draws interest, thus adding to what he already has got, and also performing a service to the community.

By letting the community have the use of his money while he is not spending it, the thrifty person does a service to the community for which the community is willing to pay interest. The community, however, has just as little use for the miser as for the spendthrift.—E. W. Beatty, in "Scouting" Regina.

World's Largest Flower

Is Four Feet in Diameter and Weighs 22½ Pounds.

The world's biggest flower is a parasite found in the island of Sumatra and is known to botanists as Rafflesia Arnoldii. It was first discovered by Dr. Arnold, in whose honor it was named. Other species also occur in Java and the Philippines. A party of travellers found one of these flowers about four feet in diameter, and not having any scale made a balance using certain packed boxes to offset the flower. These were marked, and when weighed at their destination found to be 22½ pounds. This flower emits such a powerful stench that its presence is known long before it can be seen.

Work Of Experimenters In Evolving New Types Of Grain and Vegetables

Marketing Hog Products Encouraging Prospects Both for Home and Export Trade.

The year before the war, or in the fiscal year 1913-14, Canada exported, mainly to Great Britain, 23,859,754 lbs. of bacon, 1,890,182 lbs. of ham, and 1,811,204 lbs. of pork. For the fiscal year, 1920-21, she exported 98,233,800 lbs. of bacon and ham, and 3,125,700 lbs. of pork; a total of 101,359,500 lbs. against 27,561,140 lbs. in 1913-14. This increase was below that of the abnormal year of 1919-20, when because of exhausted stocks abroad 230,324,000 lbs. of hog products were exported. These figures are taken from the third and revised edition of "Swine Husbandry in Canada," a bulletin treating of the hog in all its aspects recently issued by the Dominion Department of Agriculture. It is interesting to note that domestic consumption has increased to such an extent that less and less can be spared for export, and the danger is great that we may lose our footing on the British market in consequence. With a maintenance of the supply, however, Canadian hog-raisers may look forward to the future with confidence. One thing of great importance is that if the market is to be maintained, hogs must be properly finished. According to reports from the leading packing companies, the proportion of unfinished hogs is much too large, running as high as 15 per cent. in Central and Western Ontario and 20 per cent. in Eastern Ontario and Quebec. In the western provinces proportionately fewer light hogs are marketed, the tendency being to run to the other extreme. Hogs that exceed 220 lbs. live weight are not suitable for the production of bacon.

The breeds of swine most favored in Canada are shown by the registration of pedigrees with the Dominion Swine Breeders' Association. For instance, 1919-20, the number recorded were 5,378 Yorkshires, 3,722 Berkshires, 2,325 Duroc-Jerseys, 1,877 Chester Whites, 1,009 Poland-Chinas, 727 Lamingtons and 258 Hampshire. The characteristics of each of these breeds are described in the bulletin referred to, together with information as to breeding, rearing, feeding and housing, supplemented by illustrations. Poor productions on the prairies receive particular attention. The Veterinary Director-General contributes a paper on hog cholera, with quotations from the law in regard thereto, and the Chief Meat Inspector one on tuberculosis, its causes and symptoms.

B. C. Gold Production

Anticipated Production for 1921 Will Be Greater Than That of 1920.

It is anticipated that the gold production of British Columbia for 1921 will be considerably greater than that of 1920 if the receipts up to date at the Dominion Assay Office here can be taken as a criterion. The total receipts of bullion this year so far aggregate in value $1,275,000, as against $1,073,000 for the same period last year. The improvement is attributed to the re-opening of the Rossland Mines by the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co., and the more satisfactory conditions under which the placed mining areas are being worked.

Indians Settle on Land.
A statement made by the Department of Indian Affairs shows that of 350 applications by Indian returned soldiers, 180 have secured advances from the Soldiers' Settlements Branch of the Department, and an amount of $325,000 has been invested on their account. Of this, 45 per cent, went to the actual acquisition of land, and 40 per cent. to the purchase of buildings, livestock and machinery.

Good Yield of Wheat.

W. L. Randall, of Pasqua, Saskatchewan, completed threshing operations August 30th and reported that from 98 acres of summerfall wheat he had threshed on an average of 25 bushels to the acre, all grading number 1 hard. From 55 acres of stubble wheat he had threshed 16 bushels to the acre.

Wool From Alberta.

Sixty-seven carloads of wool, as compared with six-fifty last year have been moved from Southern Alberta to the central grading station at Toronto this season. One hundred thousand pounds of Alberta wool have already been sold.

Give your local merchants a chance. Buy at home.

To produce a wheat that will take fewer days to mature, or a wheat that will give more bushels to the acre, has long been the ambition of workers in the field of scientific agriculture, says the Calgary Herald.

The farmers of America are at present carefully watching the showing made by a new wheat—the Kanred variety—which first came into prominence at the Kansas experimental station in 1913. It is claimed for this wheat that its general average increase over the varieties commonly grown is from three to five bushels per acre.

The New York Herald recently referred to the experimenters in wheat, to Pringle of Vermont, who discovered the Defiance, and to the work of Jones of New York, whose wheat was largely grown for years in the New England States, and to Luther Burdick of Kansas, who bred the Defiance. The Herald speaks of the achievements of the Saunders family, originally of London, Ontario, and later of Ottawa, and tells the story of Marquis wheat as follows:

"The Saunders, father and sons, began their work of developing a wheat which could be grown successfully in the Western Canada and along the northern belt of the United States a quarter of a century ago. For their purpose they searched for wheat in all parts of America, Australia, Japan, in the colder districts of Russia, and at different altitudes in Himalayas. In 1893 they finally obtained a few grains from a single head of wheat which they planted in a small patch on the Canadian experimental ground. The yield of this planting was a pound of grain in 1904, the parent grain from which in 1918 came a crop of 300,000 bushels of Marquis wheat with a market price of $600,000. Canada estimates that the Saunders by their discovery of Marquis wheat, increased the value of the Canadian wheat crop $15,000,000 a year."

It speaks also of the patient experimenting of Dr. Seager Wheeler, of Rosthern, Saskatchewan, one of the first of the workers in this line to be given recognition by a Canadian university.

It is not only in connection with wheat that Canada is constantly discovering new possibilities. Professor Bedford of Manitoba, in the course of a very active life, has introduced many vegetables, the growing of which in the western climate was not regarded as possible years ago. R. J. C. Stead tells us what good crops of corn are being grown this year in Southern Alberta. Iowa was at one time regarded as too far north to make a success of corn.

The productive capacity of the soil of Canada in combination with the Canadian climate, has not yet been fathomed. The work of Saunders and Wheeler and Bedford is being carried on in many quarters, and the results of it, when put into practical application upon the broad acres of the west, will add immeasurably to the wealth of the Dominion.

World Will Have Sufficient Wheat

Twenty Countries Will Harvest Over Two Billion Bushels.

No cause for serious alarm is apparent at present over the prospect of the world's wheat supply, although the situation is not so satisfactory as was expected during the first part of the current season, according to the Department of Agriculture. Twenty countries which produce approximately 68 per cent. of the known wheat crop of the world, will harvest 2,461,430,000 bushels this year. That is 76,287,000 bushels more than was harvested in those countries last year.

Receding Tides Reveal Gold Quartz.

Receding tides in the Gulf of Alaska on "Turnagain Arm" revealed a five-foot vein of gold quartz assaying about $100 to the ton, according to reports received at Anchorage, Alaska. Rocks projecting over the sea were said to have disclosed several other rich veins.

CAN THE DEAF BE MADE TO HEAR?

This question can be answered both ways. If the deafness is due to Catarrh, success is general if the sufferer persists in the use of Catarrhine, and thereby drives Catarrh out of the system. Penetrating through the passages of the ear, the soothing vapor of Catarrhine destroys the inflammation, destroys the Seeds of Catarrh and thereby allows nature to re-assert herself. For Catarrhine Deafness, pain over the eyes, plugged nostrils and other symptoms associated with Catarrh, use Catarrhine. You'll be more than pleased with the quick improvement in your condition. Mr. Smith sat at his table in the corner, glanced nervously toward the door, then bent assiduously over his work, as being less conspicuous than the light he had been tempted for a moment to essay. But even this was not to be, for the next moment, to his surprise, the girl appeared directly to him.

"Mr. Smith, please, won't you take me somewhere to-morrow?"

"Mellicent!" Even Miss Maggie was shocked now, and showed it. "I can't help it, Aunt Maggie. I've just got to be away!" Mellicent's voice was tragic.

"But, my dear, to ask a gentleman—" reproved Miss Maggie. She came to an indeterminate pause. Smith had crossed the room and dropped into a chair near them.

"See, here, little girl, suppose you tell us just what is behind—all this," he began gently.

Mellicent shook her head stubbornly. "I can't. It's too silly. Please let it go. I want to be away. That's all."

"Mellicent, we can't do that!" Miss Maggie's voice was quietly firm. "We can't do anything, until you tell us what it is."

There was a brief pause. Mellicent's eyes, still moist, sought first the kindly questioning face of the man, then the less kind but rather more stern face of the woman. Then in a little breathless burst it came.

"It's just something they're all saying. Mrs. Pennock said—about me. 'What was it?' Two little red spots had come into Miss Maggie's cheeks.

"Yes, what was it?" Mr. Smith was looking actually belligerent. "It was just that—that they weren't going to let Carl Pennock go with me any more—anywhere, or come to see me, because I—I didn't belong to their set."

"Their set!" exploded Mr. Smith. Miss Maggie said nothing, but the red spots deepened.

"Yes, it's just that we aren't rich like them. I haven't got—money enough."

"That you haven't got—got—Oh, ye gods! For no apparent reason whatever Mr. Smith threw back his head suddenly and laughed. Almost instantly, however, he sobered; he had caught the expression of the two faces opposite.

"I beg your pardon," he apologized promptly. "It was only that to me—there was something very funny about that."

"But, Mellicent, are you sure? I don't believe she ever said it," doubted Miss Maggie.

"He hasn't been near me—for a week. Not that I care!" Mellicent turned with flashing eyes. "I don't care a bit—not a bit about that!"

"Of course you don't! It's not worth even thinking of, either. What does it matter if she said it, dear? Forget it!"

"But I can't bear to have them all talk—and notice," choked Mellicent. "And we were together such a lot before, and now—I tell you I can't go to that dance to-morrow night!"

"And you shan't, if you don't want to," Mr. Smith assured her. "Right here and now I invite you and your Aunt Maggie to drive with me to-morrow to Hubbardville. There are some records there that I want to look up. We'll get dinner at the hotel. It will take all day and we shan't be home till late in the evening. You'll go?"

"Oh, Mr. Smith, you—you dear! Of course we'll go! I'll go straight now and telephone to somebody—everybody—that I shan't be there; that I'm going to be out of town!" She sprang joyously to her feet—but Miss Maggie held out a restraining hand.

"Just a minute, dear. You don't care—you said you didn't care—that Carl Pennock couldn't come to see you any more."

"Indeed I don't!"

"Then you wouldn't want others to think you did, would you?"

"Of course not!" The red dyed Mellicent's forehead.

"You have said you'd go to this party, haven't you? That is, you accepted the invitation, didn't you, and people know that you did, don't they?"

"Why, yes, of course! But that was before—Mrs. Pennock said what she said."

"Of course. But—just what do you think these people are going to say to-morrow night, when you aren't there?"

"Why, that I—I—The color drained from her face and left it white. "They won't expect me to go after that—insult."

"Then they'll understand that you—won't they?"

"Why, I—I—They—I can't—"

She turned sharply and looked toward the window. For a long minute she stood, her back toward the two watching her. Then, with equal abruptness, she turned and came back. Her cheeks were very pink now, her eyes very bright. She carried her head with a proud little lift.

"I think, Mr. Smith, that I won't go with you to-morrow, after all," she said steadily. "I've decided to go—to that dance."

The next moment the door shut crisply behind her.

CHAPTER VIII. A Santa Claus Held Up.

It was about five months after the multi-millionaire, Mr. Stanley G. Fulton, had returned from South America, that Edward D. Norton, Esq., received the following letter—

"Dear Ned—I'm glad there's only one more month to wait. I feel like Santa Claus with a box of toys, held up by a snowdrift, and I just can't let the children dance—when they get them."

And let me say right here and now how glad I am that I did this thing. Oh, yes, I still feel like the small boy at the keyhole, at times, perhaps, but I'll forget that—when the children begin to dance."

And, really, never have I seen a bunch of people whom I thought a little money would do more good to than the Blaisdells here in Hubbardville. My only regret is that I didn't know about Miss Maggie Duff, so that she could have had some, too. (Oh, yes, I've found out all about "Poor Maggie" now, and she's a dear—the typical self-sacrificing, self-effacing bearer of everybody's burdens, including a huge share of her own!)

However, she isn't a Blaisdell, of course, so I couldn't have wanted her into my scheme very well, I suppose, even if I had known about her. They are all fond of her—though they impose on her time and her sympathies abominably. But I reckon she'll get some of the benefits of the others' generosity in this particular, as it always wishes she could do something for "Poor Maggie," so I dare say she'll be looked out for all right.

As to my plan, it will be the wisest and the most successful of the hundred thousand, and thus my eventual heir, I haven't the least idea, will be able to pay all my needs, and need it badly—need it to be comfortable and happy, poor soul. Bless her heart! I wonder what she'll get first, Niagara, the phonograph, or something to eat without looking at the price. Did I ever tell you about those "three wishes" of hers?

I can't see that any of the family are really extravagant, unless, perhaps, it's Mrs. James—"Hattie." She is ambitious, and is inclined to live on a scale a little beyond her means, I judge.

On a scale, for instance, when she has the money to gratify her tastes. Jim—poor fellow, I shall be glad to see him take it easy for once. He reminds me of the old horse I saw the other day running one of those infernal treadmill thrashing machines.

His works, and works hard, and then he gets a job night and works hard, but he never quite catches up with his bills, I fancy. What a world of solid comfort he'll take with that hundred thousand! He can hear him the long breath now—for once every bill paid!

Of course, the Frank Blaisdells are the most thrifty of bunch—at least, Mrs. Frank, "Jane," is—and I dare say they would be the most conservative handers of my millions. But time will tell. Anyhow, I shall be glad to see them enjoy themselves meanwhile with the hundred thousand. Maybe Mrs. Jane will be constrained to clear my room of a few of the mats and covers and tidies! I have hopes. At least, I shall surely have a vacation from everlasting "We can't afford it," and her equally everlasting "Of course, if I had the money I'd do it." Praise be for that!

And I'll be worth a hundred thousand, believe me, Ned.

As for her husband—I'm not sure he will take it. It isn't corn or peas or flour or sugar, you see, and I'm not posted as to his opinion of much of anything else. He'll spend some of it, though—I'm sure of that. I don't think he always thoroughly appreciates his wife's thrifty ideas of economy.

I haven't forgotten the night I came home once, to find Mrs. Jane out calling, and Mr. Frank rambling around the house with very few set at full blast. It seems he was packing his bag to go on a hurried business trip. He laughed a little sheepishly—I suppose he saw my blinking amazement at the illumination—and said something about being tired of always feeling his way through pitch-dark rooms.

So, as I say, I'm not quite sure of Mr. Frank when he comes into possession of the hundred thousand. He's been copped up in the dark so long he may want to blow in the whole hundred thousand in one grand blafe of light. However, I reckon I needn't worry—he'll still have Mrs. Jane—to turn some of the gas jets down!

As for the younger generation—they're fine, every one of them; and just think what this money will mean to them in education and advancement! Jim's son, Fred, eighteen, is a fine, manly boy. He's got his mother's ambitions, and he's here for college—even talks of working his way (much to his mother's horror) if his father can't find the money to send him. Of course, that part will be all right now—in a month.

The daughter, Bessie (almost seventeen), is an exceedingly pretty girl. She, too, is ambitious—almost too much so, perhaps, for her happiness, in the present state of their pocket-book. But of course that, too, will be all right after next month. Henry, the nine-year-old, will be concerned as little as any one over that hundred thousand dollars, I imagine. The real value of the gift he will not appreciate, of course; in fact, I doubt if he even approves of it—lest his privileges as to meals and manners be still further curtailed. Poor Benny! Now, Mellicent—

Perhaps in no one do I expect to see so thoroughly rejoiced as in the little pleasure-starved Mellicent. I realize, of course, that it will mean to her the solid advantages of college, music-culture, and travel; but I must confess that in my dearest vision, the child is reveling in one grand whirl of pink dresses and chocolate bonbons. Bless her dear heart! I gave her one five-pound box of candy, but I never repeated the mistake. Besides, enduring the manifestly suspicious disapproval of her mother because I had made the gift, I have had the added torment of seeing that box of chocolates doled out to that poor child at the rate of two pieces a day. They aren't gone yet, but I'll warrant they're as hard as bullet-shot those wretched bonbons. I picked the box up yesterday. You should have heard it rattling!

But there is yet another phase of the money business in connection with Mellicent that pleases me mightily. A certain youth by the name of Carl Pennock has been beating her around a good deal, since I came. The Pennocks have some money—fifty thousand, or so, I believe—and it is reported that Mrs. Pennock has put her foot down on the budding romance—because the Blaisdells have not got money enough to see where my chuckles come in?

However true this report may be, the fact remains, that the youth has not been near the house for a month past, nor taken Mellicent anywhere. Of course, it shows him and his family up just what they are, but it has been mortifying for poor Mellicent.

She's showing her pluck like a little trump, however, and goes serenely her way with her head just enough in the air—but not too much.

Want Prairie Chickens Protected

Are Invaluable As Hopper Destroyers
And Other Insect Pests.

A campaign for a law to prohibit all killing of prairie chickens in Saskatchewan for five years has been launched by the farmers of the province. They declare the birds are worth their weight in gold as destroyers of grasshoppers and other insect pests.

The value of the chickens in this respect was oddly demonstrated recently. A farmer driving a horse and buggy through the country ran over and killed a chicken. This was an extraordinary accident, and he got to investigate.

He found the bird's crop full almost to bursting with grasshoppers. It had eaten so many it could not fly and could hardly walk. Its voracious appetite for hoppers was the direct cause of its death.

The present law that protects prairie chickens provides for an open season of two weeks. During this brief period, sportsmen are cracking all over the prairies every day and the destruction is enormous.

In pioneer times when the Hudson's Bay Company ruled the country, chickens were plentiful. Settlers, pouring in in the wake of the transcontinental railways, almost exterminated them. Now when the old fur company, having relinquished its sovereignty to Canada, is closing out its lands in the prairie provinces to farm settlers, the chickens have come back in a limited way under protective legislation. But every year their numbers are so decimated during the open season that only a small breeding foundation is left.

Castoria, or Something Else?

FLETCHER'S CASTORIA is particularly a preparation for Infants and Children made agreeable to the taste, acceptable to the stomach and pleasant in its action. It has been in use for over thirty years and has always been one of the most highly esteemed of all cathartic preparations.

It has one great advantage over other preparations of its kind in that while it opens the organs readily and completely, it does not have a tendency to produce subsequent constipation so much to be dreaded.

Fletcher's Castoria having been prepared solely for our little-ones, should not be confused with ordinary cure-alls or preparations primarily compounded for grown-ups. The child's organism, so delicate and tender, requires specially prepared medicines and foods, the one no less than the other, as mother-love well knows, and mother-love can not be deceived.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

What is the Matter with Baby?

It cries fretfully, is restless and does not sleep well, its bowels do not move or it has diarrhoea, it does not eat or it has flatulence and vomits easily. You know baby is sick. You want to help baby get well safely and quickly.

If you are wise you will use Fletcher's Castoria, the wonderful remedy for babies' ills, that was discovered by a family doctor and that has been used for over thirty years.

When you have learned the value of Fletcher's Castoria you will never be without it, you will tell other mothers what a useful remedy it is. You will be able to keep baby well and happy by using it to keep its stomach sweet and its digestive organs acting naturally. You will call Fletcher's Castoria the Children's Comfort and the Mother's Friend.

Don't say tomorrow—try it today. And above all things don't try to relieve baby with a remedy that you would use for yourself. MOTHERS SHOULD READ THE BOOKLET THAT IS AROUND EVERY BOTTLE OF FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

No Two Ears Alike

Few Persons Can Hear Equally Well
With Either Ear.

Few persons possess a pair of ears that are exactly alike. In nearly every case one ear is larger than the other; is set further back from the eye or is higher on the head. It is likewise true that few persons can hear equally well with either ear.

Test it for yourself and you probably will be surprised at the result. Close one ear and then the other while riding in a train; not only will there be a difference in the volume of sound, but in the tone. This difference is more noticeable while listening to music. The various notes don't seem to sound much more metallic in one ear than in the other.

Most people, when straining to catch some sound that is difficult to hear, turn one ear in its direction because, without knowing it, they naturally tend to make use of the strongest ear. Which ear do you turn toward the stage if you cannot hear the words of a play? To which

Original Owners.

For nearly a year the Cap Polonio, a German liner of 21,000 tons, has been lying in dock at Liverpool waiting for a buyer.

It was one of the German ships surrendered at the end of the war, and was leased by two British liners, but only for one voyage each.

The Union Castle Line had it, and then the P. and O., and after one voyage both companies had had enough of the vessel.

British shipowners did not like it because it had so little cargo space.

She was built as a cruising boat for the ex-Kaiser, and he was to have had a model tour in her. Her dining saloon is the height of two decks.

Now the vessel has been sold to her original German owners, and will sail for Hamburg.

A Forlorn Hope

There are many in Germany who think a "trial of military strength" between Great Britain and France is not far distant, if they should cease to co-operate, it is declared by John E. Boodin, professor of philosophy at Carleton College, Minnesota, in a lengthy interview published in the London Times. Prof. Boodin has been visiting Germany.

In his opinion the old spirit of German "kultur" still lives in the educated circles of Germany. He asserts that in conversations with Germans of the university class he found a general hope that there may be in the near future a rift between Great Britain and France which will enable Germany to deal with France alone.

Do you know what constitutes a strong constitution?

To have sound, healthy nerves, completely under control, digestive organs that are capable of absorbing a hearty meal, means you have a strong constitution! Your general attitude is one of optimism and energy.

But an irritable disposition, frequent attacks of indigestion, and a languid depression, indicate your system is not in correct working order.

Probably you are not eating the proper food. Probably the nutritious elements are not being supplied to your system in the proper way.

Grape-Nuts is the wholesome, delicious cereal that promotes normal digestion, absorption and elimination, whereby nourishment is accomplished without auto-intoxication. A mixture of energy-giving wheat and malted barley comprise the chief elements of Grape-Nuts. A dish at breakfast or lunch is an excellent, wholesome rule to follow.

You can order Grape-Nuts at any and every hotel, restaurant, and lunch room; on dining cars, on lake boats and steamers; in every good grocery, large and small, in every city, town or village in Canada.

Grape-Nuts—the Body Builder
"There's a Reason"

For School Luncheon

BY LORETTA C. LYNCH
An Acknowledged Expert in All Matters Pertaining to Household Management.

With the approaching return to school there arises the problem of the school lunch box. The shops are showing a variety of attractive boxes. Some have an attractive hot-cold bottle of the three-fourth pint size.

The hot-cold bottle might contain some cocoa made with good rich milk. Again, while the days are still warm, it may contain some nourishing ice cream to be eaten with a piece of real sponge cake.

Besides the hot dish, of course, the average hungry boy and girl wants to find something else. A roll, thickly spread with butter after it is cut, and the parts firmly pressed together should be substituted frequently for the crustless sandwich. The crust on the roll induces mastication, which not only aids digestion, but also helps toward good teeth.

The sandwich is one of the convenient ways of serving food in a lunch box. The bread should be at least a day old and should be clear-grained. Cut it thin and butter it before spreading the filling. Butter contains a growth-producing element quite necessary to a child's diet.

Generally speaking, it is better to mince meat, or poultry, or fish before using it as a filling. It takes but a moment to run that piece of roast beef through the food chopper. Ham being difficult of digestion is not to be highly recommended for the school lunch box.

If used at all, save it for the occasional surprise to be mixed perhaps with minced egg. The fillings to be recommended are cottage cheese made from sour milk, the commercial cream cheese, or the less rich Neuchatel cheese. A little finely-divided "store" cheese may be used from time to time as a sandwich filling. It should never be served sliced difficult of digestion, especially for children.

Avoid condiments and spices in school lunch boxes. A little onion jelly will often give flavor where it seems lacking. Salt, of course, is allowable.

A sweet filling of some kind such as jam or chopped dates or figs or fruit paste containing some ground nut meats are desirable. Fruit, such as an orange or an apple, are always acceptable. Cookies, too, and occasionally a single piece of candy afford variety and surprise.

The housewife should endeavor to plan the contents of the lunch box on paper. It is easier than to do it and-miss way. Waxed paper as well as paper napkins should always be on hand.

Try planning better luncheons for the children who must carry luncheon to school. You will see a general all-around improvement in the children.

A Novel Sport Coat

By Marie Belmont.

The sport coat appears in many a different guise, for it has various functions to fulfill. Sometimes it is demanded by the woman who goes in strenuously for athletics, or it may be worn by she who watches the players. This rather redecorative model belongs to the latter class. It is made of yellow flannel. The fronts, which are extended at the sides to form pockets, are outlined with bands of black crepe. The cuffs are similarly adorned. The collar is high and is encircled with black wool embroidery. This also appears on the sleeves, which are very wide.

WOULD NOT BE WITHOUT BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Mrs. W. Beesley, Mille Roche, Ont., writes "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for the past eight months and would not be without them. I used them for indigestion and teething and my baby is cutting his teeth without any trouble whatever. I can highly recommend the Tablets to other mothers." What Mrs. Beesley says thousands of other mothers say. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach, thus driving out constipation and indigestion and making teething easy. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

TOO ILL TO GO TO SCHOOL

Mother Tells how Daughter was Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Cobourg, Ont.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me for my daughter. She had trouble every month which left her in a weak and nervous condition with weak back and pain in her right side. She had these troubles for three years and frequently was unable to attend school. She has become regular and feels much better since she began taking the Vegetable Compound and her nervousness and bearing-down pains, all of which are symptoms of woman's ills. Every mother who has a daughter suffering from such symptoms should give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial."

Was Flat On His Back In Bed A Whole Month, Declares Thompson

"The very first few doses of Tanlac I took made me feel better, and now my stomach seems just like a new one," said Samuel Thompson, 172 Peters ave., Winnipeg, Man. "I was in very bad shape before I got Tanlac. My health broke down a year ago, and I got to where I was little more than a physical wreck. I was flat on my back in bed for a month, and when I got up the life of me seemed to be gone. I hardly had strength enough to get around, and my appetite was very poor. I soon commenced suffering from indigestion so bad I just hated the thought of eating, for my food soured and I was kept bloated and in agony all the time.

"I finally started taking Tanlac, however, and by the time I had finished my second bottle I was eating heartily. I've taken five bottles now and can eat and enjoy anything I want and feel as well as I ever did in my life. I am glad to recommend Tanlac, for I believe it will help anyone suffering from stomach trouble."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

Canada's Soap Factories

Fourteen Millions Each Year For Soap In Canada's Bill.

According to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, Canada spends fourteen millions of dollars a year on soap. Of the 28 plants engaged in this industry, 13 are located in Ontario. During the year reported, over one hundred million pounds of soap was manufactured in Canada, and the quantity sold by the producers was worth over $13,000,000. In addition there was imported a million dollars' worth of soap made in other countries. Exports amounted to only slightly over $100,000.

It Testifies for Itself.—Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil needs no testimonial of its powers other than itself. Whoever tries it for coughs or colds, for cuts or contusions, for sprains or burns, for pains in the limbs or body, will know that the medicine proves itself and needs no guarantee. This shows why this Oil is in general use.

Land Holdings dwindling. The land holdings of the Hudson's Bay Company are dwindling in Saskatchewan. Originally, proprietors of 6,000,000 acres in this province, the company now owns only about half this amount.

WHITMORE'S AUTO GEAR PROTECTIVE COMPOSITION

Add 500% to Gear Life. Thousands of tests have been conducted by Lubricating experts to demonstrate the relative efficiency of various lubricants. The results of these tests conducted over years, has fixed the choice of sixteen leading manufacturers. These manufacturers include:

The largest builder of fine cars in the world; The largest builder of trucks in the world; The largest builder of axles in the world; The largest builder of worm gears in the world.

Many lubricants contain acid. They not only fail to counteract friction, but are themselves harmful and corrosive to gear and bearing surfaces.

Whitmore's Auto Gear Compositions Contain No Acids

They are proof against heat and cannot break down or squeeze out. In the Panama Canal Emergency Dams, six million pounds rest on an unbroken film of WHITMORE'S. After an exhaustive test the U.S. Army contracted for its exclusive use. Manufactured by The Whitmore Manufacturing Co., Lubricating Engineers, Cleveland, Ohio.

An Appeal for a Side-walk to the Church

The recent rain has made our main thoroughfares very muddy for the time, but they are drying rapidly inspite of rather heavy traffic. The sidewalks during this wet period have been a boon to pedestrians en route to office, store or public assemblage—with one exception; and that is the sidewalk which leads to the House of God. This is a gathering place for something over one hundred people from Sunday to Sunday. But the spring freshets effectually block the way for all who have not "waders". Do you remember the flood-tide that swept by the church the spring of 1920? What a torrent it was!

Last spring was little better. Meanwhile the people dwell on this side of Jordan, but the Temple stood on the other. "And it came to pass in those days that one said to his fellow, as he scanned the deep waters, and dark, 'we know that our father Moses is gathered unto his fathers; But have we not our Mayor, surely he will lead us over by a dry way unto the place of Worship.' Then cometh this same man and his fellow, and they stand before the Mayor for to make this petition, while all the congregation of the people wait without. And they, waiting thus long, begin to say, 'verily the time is long, and surely the Mayor delayeth his coming.'—A Citizen.

Canadian National Reduce Menu On Dining Cars

The Canadian National Railways, with a view of encouraging passenger traffic, will, effective September 15th, reduce cost for meals in dining cars of that company to practically what they were in pre war days.

The reductions are in line with the general policy of making Canadian National dining car service one that will meet the needs and the means of all and at the same time render the service the public wants.

Alberta Ministers Will Meet the Loan Companies' Agents

Hon. J. E. Brownlee, Hon. R. G. Reid, and probably Premier Greenfield and Hon. G. Hoadley are expected in Calgary this week. While in Calgary they will hold an informal conference with representatives of the loan and mortgage companies, the object of which is to bring about a better understanding between the companies and the borrowing public, particularly the farmers who are living in districts that have had several crop failures.

The date of this meeting will be announced shortly by the government ministers.

The Chinook Ladies Aid are getting up a play which they intend to put on in the near future.

Last Tuesday the town presented a "rid" appearance with large posters were everywhere exhibited notifying the ratepayers of Chinook that an election for a councillor was to take place. All day long the excitement ran high as to which of the two aspirants for the position of councillor would get elected. However, the counting of votes told the story, and at ten o'clock Tuesday night the citizens were amused from their reverie by loud cheering. What's the noise? Why, the crowd are cheering for Samuel Henry Smith who has been elected a member of the Chinook Village Council!
